DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 23-25,34,35,37,39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ensminger et al (US 5395816; 3/7/95). Ensminger teaches a method of controlling weed growth at the locus (crop) comprising applying an encapsulated delay release composition comprising an isoxazole herbicide into the surface of a medium (soil). See abstract, Table 1, column 16 line 1 – column 19 line 6.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 26,36,38,40-42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ensminger as applied to claims 23-25,34,35,37,39 above. See USC 102(b) above. Ensminger teaches all that is recited in claims 26,36,38,40-42 except for the instant particle size of the encapsulated composition. One having ordinary skill in the art would have been expected to determine the optimum particle size, number of applications, and deposit depth. One would have been motivated to do this in order to make an invention that is effective in controlling weeds.

Claim Objection

Claims 27-33 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. The prior art does not teach or suggest the encapsulation of the isoxazole herbicide in these claims.
